To
The Class of 1925

HIS class of 1925, as the records show, is the largest in the history of our school. It, certainly, is a pleasure that so many of you have finished your task satisfactorily. To have completed twelve years of public school work is a great accomplishment.

We desire to congratulate each one of you upon this attainment. This success, worthy as it is, has a common element with other successes—the accomplishment of the objective sought.

Worthy objectives, therefore, give character to our success, and in this we find the opportunity for the exercise of intelligent judgment, and guarded effort. For the school, for the class of which you have been a member, for your home, for yourself—let those things that are of most worth have first place and consideration in your life work.

This school is proud of you; we regard your work here with us as a special privilege. It is hoped that the friendships here begun may grow stronger and stronger: that we may in some mysterious way become the guardian angels of one another.

We share with you the regret of parting. As teachers and pupils we shall meet no more,—but as friends and fellow citizens.

That the light of peace, happiness and good cheer may be shed upon the way you travel in the service among men, this is our desire for each of you,—the benediction of old B. G. Hi.

In Memoriam

LYAL ABBOTT

1906-1925

Class of 1925

AS we Seniors of 1925 approach nearer and nearer to graduation, or shall we say the end of our visit, because our High School life was so enjoyable, we begin to think and meditate upon our years spent in dear Old B. G. Hi.

We first think of our Freshman year. Oh, how proud we felt to know that we were "Freshies". That was when our High School spirit was dominant and it was really then that it began to seep out of our hearts. This was our first decided step towards the goal.

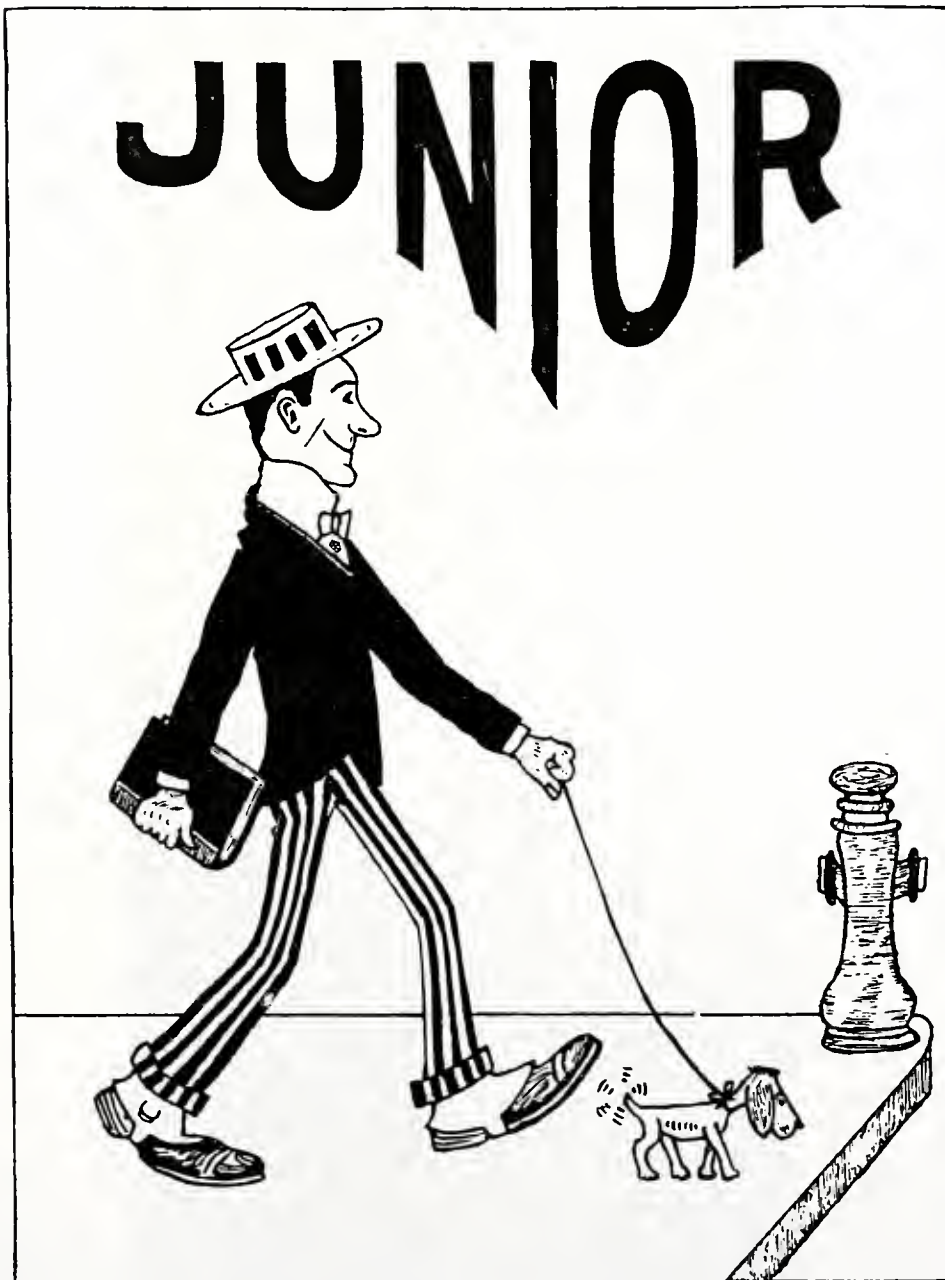

The next year we left the name of Freshmen behind and acquired the name of Sophomores. By the co-operation and good will of all the class, the year was made a pleasant one, associated with basketball and football games, to which we contributed greatly.

No, we didn't shirk when the tenth year was completed; we climbed another great and decided step and became Juniors. Our greatest achievement of the year was the Junior—Senior Banquet given for the Class of '24 which will be long remembered.

The goal is almost reached. Our most pleasant year of all is nearing the end. Our efforts were increased in order to make it so. It is with a sad heart that we leave Old B. G. Hi. We know and hope others will feel that we have done our duty and our part in making our High School life a successful and eventful one.

CLASS OF 1926

Class of 1926

TEACHER was giving a History lesson. "Class, we have a most interesting account of the activities of the most famous class that ever graduated from Bowling Green High School.

"Long ago in the prehistoric days of '22 there came into the learned halls of Bowling Green High School a famous band: these were called Freshmen.

"They started their uphill fight against low grades, austere teachers and knowing upperclassmen with determination.

"The members of this class were so dignified, so wise, so free from the usual characteristics of Freshmen that they astonished everybody in the high school, except Bud.

"With passing seasons they gained more and more prowess. Not only in sports were they prominent but in all the organizations of the school, proving their unusual ability. As for lessons they were easily gotten and glibly recited to delighted instructors who had long waited for just such diligent students.

"Socially they were all that could be desired and their box social and parties were undisputed successes.

"In the Fall of '24 they returned full of determination to add more laurels to those they had gained the preceding years.

"They spent many busy hours feeding the hungry (?) football and basketball fans and had Jitney Lunches in order to provide the Annual Banquet for the worthy Seniors.

"Now, children," finished the teacher, "give me the name of this class."

"The Class of '26," they all shouted in a chorus.

"Yes, that is correct. Tomorrow we will have even a more interesting lesson on their history as Seniors. Now we will use the remainder of the period in solving cross-word puzzles, which, when finished, will contain the names of a few of the bright lights of this class."

CLASS OF 1927

Class of 1927

IN the fall of '23 we were admitted into the learned community called Senior High School and at once, as a band of verdant Freshmen, recognized the dignity of our new position. It was in that year that we organized a class with an aim to make B. G. High School proud of us.

This year, our Sophomore year, we begin to feel our wisdom teeth pricking. We have grasped every opportunity for progress and the betterment of our school—B. G. High. We have had boys on the football field, boys and girls on the basketball court and this year we also have members of our class in the Debate Club, glee clubs, and the orchestra.

One of the greatest contributions our class has made is to the Latin Department. This contribution is a model Roman war galley, completed after six months of hard work by Howard George, Ellsworth Capen, Robert Alexander, and Frank Campbell. It was taken to the Ohio Classical Association Meeting in November, at Oberlin this fall where it gained much notoriety and Cleveland asked to borrow it for exhibition in her high schools. These boys are sending the plans to Miss Dorothy Seeger, Youngstown, Ohio, High School so that other high schools may make one, also. She is the head of second Latin work in Ohio.

As we near the end of our Sophomore year we look back with pride over the progress we have made. May our aim throughout the next two years of High School life be one of service to our Alma Mater. We know that our class is brilliant, keen, witty and even good looking, but may the class not be remembered because of these things alone. When we leave the doors of B. G. H. S. we want to be remembered for greater things than a rudely carved name on a desk in Room Twenty-one.

The Debating Club

HE members of the debating organization this season are Dolan Limber, Paul Weihl, Margaret Beverstock, Edna Rayner, Richard Canary, Anna Seifert, William Dunnipace, Lois Gilbert, and John Konopka. Mr. Mercer has been retained as coach again this season and Mr. Rubrake is serving as assistant coach.

Last season started with a small group of inexperienced speakers and ended with a satisfactory record of winning four of six possible decisions. Our team debating at home defeated Kenton by a unanimous vote of the judges.

This year debates have been arranged with Findlay, Fostoria, Kenton, and Tiffin. Although all of the speakers this season are new on the team, the coaches report that satisfactory progress is being made in the work.

The Girls' Glee Club

HIS is the largest organization in the Music Department. Because of the many who desire membership at the beginning of the year, the number was limited to forty-five. Members were selected after individual try-outs.

At the first meeting for election of officers, Blanche Shanower was elected President, Katherine Taber, Vice-President, and Glenna Fletcher, Secretary and Treasurer.

They sang very creditably before the Parent-Teachers Association at their Christmas meeting. Their voices blended beautifully and tone quality was splendid.

For the musical program for the second semester, efforts were concentrated on the Operetta—"The Wishing Well"—which culminated in an artistic presentation the evening of March 24.

This Operetta was a picturesque romance of Ireland. The songs were beautiful, steps clever and text full of comedy. People selected from both Glee Clubs took part in this performance. This was the biggest event of the year in the Music Department; the three organizations were represented together.

The Boys' Glee Club

Early last fall the boys High School Glee Club was reorganized. At the first meeting for election of officers John Draper was elected President, Howard George, Vice-President, and Ellsworth Capen, Secretary and Treasurer.

Because of difficulty in finding time for meetings satisfactory for all members it was necessary to divide the club, which was unfortunate. Toward the end of the second semester the boys were able to sing in parts, moderately difficult material.

In January the boys started to work on the Operetta and special rehearsals were called. Work of this kind in ensemble should be an inspiration to both the members and to those who have been fortunate enough to enjoy the results.

We have talent in our Music Department in the Girls and Boys Glee Clubs for a splendid double mixed quartet which may be used effectively in our work.

High School Orchestra

HE purpose of the High School Orchestra is easily defined. It is for the individual improvement of each member, the experience of ensemble playing and for the entertainment of the various audiences before which they play.

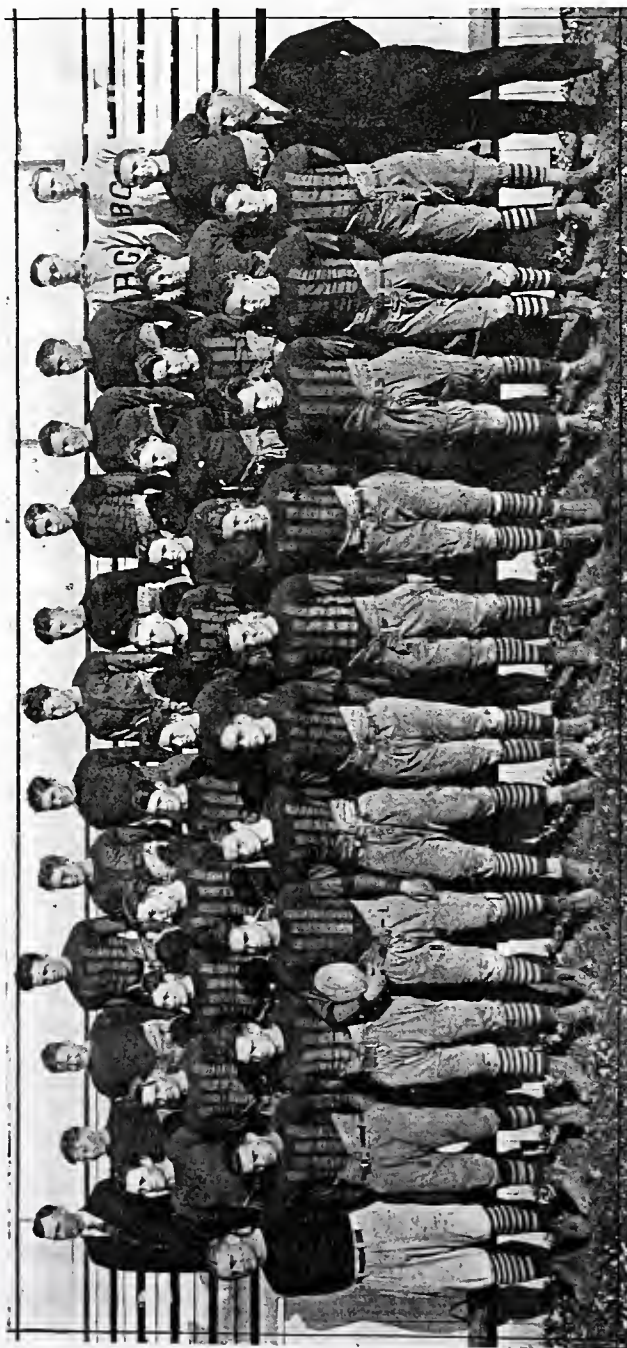

Although this organization is a comparatively new one, it is fast becoming something for the High School to be proud.

We have a good sized organization of twenty-two players. They steadily increase in skill until they can render the classics with an artistic finish, much to the delight of the hearers.

Members of this organization were selected to play for the High School Operetta which took place in March. Their first appearance met with much favor from the Parent-Teachers Association.

Our Orchestra is a permanent institution in our school and contributes much to the musical appreciation and to the development of well rounded lives. In the future it will not only be an asset to the school but to the Community as well.

Our Cheer Leaders

Bee Gee's reputation for high-class cheer leading was ably maintained the past school year. Many a time the teams on the gridiron and on the floor were inspired by the enthusiasm stirred up by Hubert Schwarz, Robert Cuttar and Marvin Steen. Cheer leading is an art in itself, and these Bee Gee enthusiasts have set the pace for many years to come for high calibered pep and true sportsmanship spirit.

Basketball

The season of 1925 in basketball may appear disappointing if the final score is wholly considered. A glance at the schedule will reveal the number of games lost by a very small margin, accidents that come all too often in the life of any team. B. G. H. S. by her clean and manly sportsmanship has earned the respect and admiration of all her opponents, officials, and patrons. This reputation is the great service and victory acquired for our High School by our athletic teams.

Girls' Basketball Tournament

Since the presentation of the Girls' Basketball Cup is an annual affair in Bee Gee now, a tournament was necessary to again pick a championship team from the Senior High.

The Class of 1924, having won the cup last year and then having left it for the next claimant because of graduation, it appeared as though at least three teams had an even chance.

The tournament began on the 4th of March with the 10—1's and 10—2's playing the opening game. The result of that encounter was 11—10 in favor of the underclass team with Fuller and Reed of the 10—1's and Lincoln and McKnight of the 10—2's starring.

The second game brought together the dignified Seniors and the aspiring Juniors. Since the Seniors, as Juniors, had only missed winning the cup by one point in 1924, they were expected to again produce the goods.

The Juniors had a small lead at the half with the masculine members of both classes ruining their voices in the mad uproar. After a see-saw game the Juniors drew away and were never headed during the remainder of the game, the score when the game ended being 22—16 in favor of the Juniors.

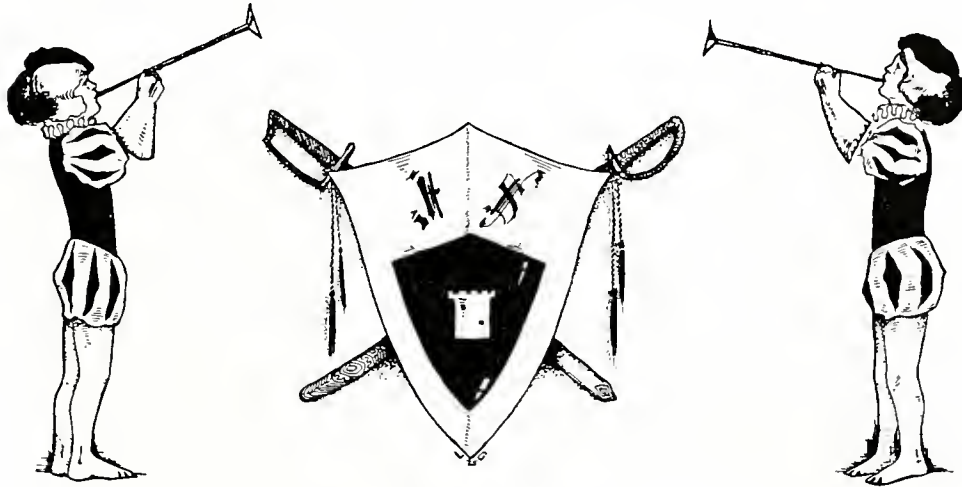

Raney, Reed and Magee were the bulwark of the attack for the underclass team while Shelton put up a wonderful game at guard. Wirick and Ducat were the main bucket-tossers for the Seniors.

The third combat was between the 10—1's and 9—2's and ended with the 10—1's again winning by a 21—12 score. Miss Chapman of B. G. N. C. refereed this game.

In order to clinch the title the Juniors had to beat the 10—1's because of their other victories, and they proceeded to do that very thing. At the half, things looked bad for the Juniors with the score 8—5 in favor of the 10—1's but Magee came through with seven goals and four fouls during the last period to help put the upper class team into a substantial lead while the Junior guards were holding the Sophs to one field goal.

This gave the Juniors an unchallenged title to the cup with prospects of again doing the trick next year.

Junior-Senior Banquet

HE old Scottish dinner hall presented a beautiful sight on the evening of May 20, 1924 when Juniors and Seniors assembled there as brave knights and fair ladies.

The tables beautifully decorated with colored candles and flowers and the walls adorned with shields, banners and skins of animals added greatly to the beauty of the scene.

A delicious dinner was prepared by the mothers of the Juniors and was served by twenty boys and girls of the Sophomore Class.

While the diners were enjoying the banquet, Leo Lake's Collegians furnished excellent music.

At the close of the dinner Mr. John Draper, President of the Junior Class, acted as toastmaster. He welcomed the Class of '24 and wished them success and hoped they would win many victories in the great tournament in which they were about to enter.

Following the Toast given by Mr. Draper, Mr. Ronald Bechman, President of the Senior Class talked on the appropriate subject, "Knights and Ladies". Mr. Williams then followed, his subject being "Spectators". He congratulated the class of '24 and hoped they would do their best in the tournament. Miss Kathryn March spoke on the subject, "Colors". Miss Pauline Russell's subject was, "Deeds of Valor". "Beads, Bells and Bugles" was given by Miss Helen Shafer. Miss Lillian Tressel's subject was "The Queen of Love and Beauty". The concluding speech was given by Superintendent D. C. Bryant. He warned the class of '24 of the hardships of life and told them to battle faithfully in the tournament and overcome the hardships with courage and faith. He urged that they gain success like that which the knights of old achieved.

In the auditorium two playlets were well given, the first being, "What happened to Jack". The cast included, Frances Heiby, Elmina Mercer, Paul Dingler and Paul Fuller. The second playlet, "Surprise" was given by Don Shafer, Margaret Beverstock, Marjorie Mercer, John Finch and Lois Gilbert.

Between the two plays, Miss Marian Lantz sang two songs in a pleasing manner accompanied by Mrs. Howe on the piano.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The Junior-Senior Banquet of 1924 was one that will never be forgotten and will go down in the history of the school as one of the best.

Mrs. Lola Mercer

To Mrs. Lola Mercer we extend our thanks and full appreciation for her unselfish devotion to our class during our Junior year. Her uniqueness of plan and pleasant innovation in our Junior-Senior Banquet will cause this great event to be long remembered.

The Class of 1925.

Senior Hallowe'en Party

ON November 4, 1924, the Senior Class of '25 gave their first party of the season. Very attractive schemes of Hallowe'en were carried out during the evening.

At 7:30 o'clock about one hundred members of the Senior Class assembled in the upper hall after coming through the "Hall of Fame" where they met "Death", cold and hungry. Some of them had the misfortune of being shocked, while others shook hands with big white ghosts. After reaching the upper hall, they were given a reward by an Indian maid.

Several clowns, fairies, gypsies, dwarfs and farmers ventured into the "Graveyard," while others sought the chambers of "Bluebeard's Seven Wives."

Miss Frances Heiby and Miss Merle Frank led the Grand March around the Hall, four times, and the prizes were awarded to the following:

Pauline Russell as the worst looking girl; Frances Heiby as the best looking girl; Floyd Killian as the best dressed lady and Kenneth Burkholder as the best looking gentleman.

After the march Miss Pauline Russell selected a cast to produce the drama entitled "Gathering in the Nuts".

The following cast took part:

Hero	Frank Young
Heroine	Frances Heiby
Aunt Molly	Anna Seifert
Baby Sister	Marguerite McConnell
The Villian	Paul Wayman
The Dressmaker	Donnabel Phillips

The actors and actresses had such a peculiar sensation that the play was postponed for the evening.

Later the "suitcase race" furnished a great laugh for every one. Helen Whitmer and Kenneth Cook won the prize.

At 9:30 o'clock refreshments of pop corn balls, cookies and cider were served after which dancing was enjoyed by all.

Every one present declared the party a huge success.

Soph's Hard Party

THE Sophomores held a Hard Time Party on December 5, the gym being decorated accordingly, with the usual amount of newspapers and boxes. The first comers were greeted with popular songs by the five-piece orchestra which was found capable of playing anything, from "Limehouse Blues" to "The Maiden's Prayer". The music (?) finally ended and the majority having arrived, the evening's entertainment of games was begun. After exciting adventures such as cuckoo, suitcase races, choosing the best costumed and awarding the prizes to Miss Ruth Raney and Lester Hanna, the fun ended with the Virginia Reel to the ancient but popular tune of "Turkey in the Straw". After we had found our partners by matching cards (which of course served to sharpen our appetites) refreshments, consisting of cider, sandwiches, doughnuts and all day suckers, were served. Soon after a grand clean-up with splendid co-operation we returned to our homes all hoping for more good times in the future from our Class of '27.

R. G.

Freshman Hallowe'en Party

WHEN the ghosts and the goblins were wandering about in all their wierdness, the Freshman class called together their cohorts and had their first social gathering in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

The gymnasium was artistically decorated in an appropriate scheme of orange and black, with bats and witches in profusion. The costumes of the masqueraders were very clever and added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

Games and contests were entered into with a hearty spirit; and with some the fates were generous enough to divulge the initials of their future mates. Much fun was derived from a gipsy tent where wonderful secrets of the past, present, and future were told.

At the close of the fun and frolic cider and doughnuts were found waiting to refresh the merry group; and they departed for their homes looking forward, with pleasant anticipations, to the Spring party.

Miss Lantz.

Annual Football Banquet

HICKEN, mashed potatoes, gravy, biscuits, slaw, fruit, olives, pickles, 'n all the decorations that go along with it to make a real-for-sure banquet were spread out before the members of the 1924 football squad February 19, in the "gym" by the mothers of the fellows.

Every fellow there was not sorry that he came. There was plenty to eat for every one. When the plates were empty and you thought you couldn't get another bite down, some mother came along with a big platter of something good and insisted upon taking more. And you did.

After eating, cheers were given for the mothers who had worked so hard in order that the fellows might enjoy themselves, and their work was not in vain for they did.

Supt. D. C. Bryant was master of the ceremonies and called for peace among the fellows who were exchanging remarks and also anything else that was within an arms reach.

Dr. J. W. Rae, as a guest, was the first speaker of the evening. He told of the fine field that the schoolnow had, and declared that no town the size of B. G. had a better place to play.

The next speakers, F. W. Toan, B. H. Urschel and Judge E. M. Fries, talked about the field, the game, and each highly complimented the fellows on the sportsmanship shown by them on the field.

The next to make a speech was Coach "Nig" Stellar, from the College. He complimented Coach "Bob" Rettig, and declared that he held the athlete in high respect who went to the Normal College after graduating from old B. G. H. S.

"Art" Patterson was next called upon, and it is said that Art is better known by all the fellows in B. G. than any other person.

Principal M. S. Williams next presented the fellows who graduate this year with sweaters. Those receiving the sweaters were Capt. Dick Riley Johnny Barr, Francis and Don King, Harold Kordee and Alton Foote. Each were called upon for a few remarks, and said that they were sorry that they had played their last game of football for the Scarlet and Grey, but would do all in their power to help in any way possible. Those to receive letters were Kramer, Fish, Kitchen, Loomis, Charleton, Whitacre, Ireland, McDowell and Longacre.

Coach "Bob" Rettig was next called upon. He reviewed the past season and said that he looked forward to a great year on the gridiron next year. Bob has mighty high anticipations for next year, and we all hope that he isn't disappointed.

A great deal of credit should be given to the next speaker, Manager Harry O. Stout, who worked very hard this year making the money end of the game work, and he succeeded.

"Bud" Gallier

HERE are many characteristics about "Bud" which we admire. In the first place, he is a good official. In fact he is too good, in the opinion of those lax in attendance. He is also an auto mechanic of no mean ability and it is largely thru his efforts that the school busses function so efficiently. Incidentally, Bud drives one of these busses every day. Between trips he performs various other duties at the public school buildings in our city.

But the most admirable characteristic about him is his unselfishness. He is always out to a football game and not always as a spectator. He has driven the bus on various basketball trips on bitter, cold nights thru deep snow. He has been instrumental in getting our football field in shape and erecting the flagpole and bleachers. There are many other good things which we could say about Bud, but space is limited. Oh, yes! He is very busy doing something for our schools. Isn't that the reason he is one of our foremost boosters?

Leon bought the little bungalow would Kenneth Cook?
Our class of '25 presented a casket to B. G. Hi could John Draper?

An enormous amount of nothing—faculty talks.

John Finch—All great men are dying and I feel bad myself.

Stella Ryder—I had to cover my mouth to keep from screaming.

The conduct of a student varies as the square of the distance from the instructor.

The Freshmen resemble real estate.

Why?

They're such a vacant lot.

Ye Gads and Little Fishes

Miss Willison—Pupils, I am dismissing you ten minutes early today.
Please go out quietly so as not to wake the other classes.

Marshall S.—Did you see that pretty girl smile at me?

Don S.—That's nothing, the first time I saw you I laughed out loud.

Name the three articles containing starch.

Two cuffs and a collar.

Shafer—Shay, is this a hand laundry?

Laundry Man—Yes.

Shafer—Wash my hands, will you?

Margaret Beverstock—What kind of flowers did we send?

Abe—Why, we sent tranquils.

Some Seniors

A mouth like Vesuvius fair,
Very large and emitting hot air,
 When Archie gets hep,
 He can sure rouse our pep,
He's a Cook from the canine lair.

A step like the beat of a drum,
A voice like a shout from the sun,
 The door backward slips,
 Then the total eclipse,
And we know that our Anna has come.

A dribble, a pivot, a shot,
And the ball dropping straight thru
 the slot,
 When Lucile draws near,
 Her opponents take fear,
For it seems she's the best of the lot.

For Sherer music going with chew,
There's only one thing we can do,
 For the tones never harsh,
 We must give it to Marsh,
And "Oh Boy" the gum likes him, too.

For the bell bottom trousers that ring,
Little Max seems to be quite the thing,
 When he gets in his car,
 This Franklin goes far,
While his radio struggles to sing.

Tho this class is a dignified haul,
There's no one that's Fuller than
 Paul,
 When you first hear him laugh,
 It may sound like a calf,
But it's really the Editor's call.

When you read of a Bowling Green star,
You know that his last name is Barr,
 On the gridiron or floor,
 He's all there—and more,
Now doesn't that give you a jar?

A tribute to Baltimore class,
Is B. G.'s new live Wirick lass,
 Her first name is Helen,
She's mighty compellin'
 And adds a whole lot to the class.

The champ of the druggists is Frank,
At giving the sodas a yank
 His praises are sung
For he's fast tho he's Young
But his studies sometimes need a crank.

An artist of talent quite rare,
A speaker of qualities fair,
 And one more fine thing,
 Is that Lois can sing
For no audience gives her a scare.

—Richard C.

Monday, Sept. 8, 1924.

Three months! Well, who'd'a thunk it. Still I'm kinda glad; time was draggin'. Books! Schedules! Rooms! Everyone of these a nightmare to the comers-in downstairs. "Where's Room 21, 17, 27, 12, etc!" "And say, have you seen the new teachers? Oh, Mabel, there's the best lookin' man upstairs!"

Friday, 12.

One week gone and we begin hoping they're all this short! The infants are beginning to get their schedules straight now, so soon we'll have team work.

Tuesday, 16.

First Senior meeting. We certainly are turning out a class to be proud of. We think we counted about 110 so far. Not so bad! The honored ones were: Paul Fuller, Pres.; Lois Gilbert, Vice-Pres.; Margaret Beverstock, Treasurer; Kathryn Ketzenbarger, Secretary.

Monday, 22.

Ah boy! here's my chance. "All football candidates meet in Room 5 at 2:45 today! A goodly-sized bunch turned out. 'At a way—keep up the ol' spirit.

Thursday, 25.

Seniors—all in 21. Ring Committee was selected; rings selected, and Mr. Stout and Miss Shafer selected as sponsors for class of '25. Now—we're ready for a big year!

Friday, 26.

Those who have been out to the football grounds know what kind of material we have! Not only looks promising but—well, we're pretty optimistic. Get on your mark; get set:

Saturday, 27.

"Go! BG!" And go? Well I hope to smoke a rubber boot we went! (So did North Baltimore.) But B. G. got the heavier end of the score, 13-16.

Monday, 29.

Aw, I don't wanta go to school. I wanta go to the fair-grounds. Everyone has been asked to be here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; then they will be excused for the rest of the week to see the race horses, colored minstrels, etc.

Wednesday, Oct. 1.

Hooray! No more school this week. Tomorrow's the big day and we'll all be there.

Thursday, 2.

Aye Yaye! See Minnie! Eats, drinks and sleeps under water! Alive! Alive! A lot of us innocently were fleeced out of our shekels by these bally-hous making their show—the best!

Friday, 3.

That's the way, B. G.—clean 'em like Ivory Soap. Perrysburg was our victim and we cleaned 'em 46-0! Ouch!

Friday, 10.

Team Rah Rah Rah echoes rang thru the building from one end to the other. Have we got the spirit? Yea!

Saturday, 11.

We're awfully sorry Lima, but we've just started the habit and you are eliminated. The result of the race was 12 to 0.

Monday, 13.

Say, didja see the game Saturday? Some game? We are not going to miss a game—going to 'em all. This Saturday we're going to Fremont to get the bacon. It's heavy; who all are goin'?

Saturday, 18.

We guess Fremont tried to scare us out today—a big Klan Konclave! Nevertheless B. G. was there aplenty! The game was not won but B. G. knows now she could have done better—"After the battle's over!" Score 18-0.

Monday, 20.

The debate club met for the first time and elected their officers. The following were elected: President, John J. Konopka; Vice-President, Lois Gilbert; Secretary, Margaret Beverstock.

Saturday, 25.

Kenton. A lot of fans from B. G. made the trip. We lost the game but are fair losers—we know it's just Fate and he'll soon loose his chains, we hope. 7-6. Oh!

Monday, Nov. 3.

Each member of the club gave a three-minute speech on any current event which was followed by a discussion of the whole thing and a lecture by Mr. Mercer.

Tuesday, 4.

Class o' 1925 turns out for a Hallowe'en party "en masse"—an awful motley crew! Games and dancing filled the evening and later cider and doughnuts filled the "tummies". An' the prize-winners ought to go on Vaudeville!

Friday, 7.

Hooray! Fostoria! We'll show 'em a good game, a good time, etc., all good. They turned out real strong and so did B. G.—it rained some but not enough to spoil the field or game. B. G. showed up B. G. like but the shot rang out when Fostoria had a margin of 2 points over us. Plenty of music—the College Band, American Legion "drumsters", and the Fostoria Hi School Band. After every game between B. G. and Fostoria, the loser has one consolation—"still there are more games to follow".

Tuesday, 11.

Went to school today to celebrate Armistice Day.

Friday, 14.

School was dismissed today so that every football fan—teacher or student—could go see B. G. and Findlay entangle there. Did they go—well Bowling Green was predominant in all circles, and yelling like she should for Scarlet and Gray! The fray ended 40-7, Findlay's favor.

After the game a few B. G.-ites went on to Columbus for the Michigan game. Lotsa pennants were obtained this evening. Presents? Uh Huh!

Tuesday, 17.

Norman Loose was elected secretary to take the place of Margaret Beverstock, who had resigned. A debate was given on the "Dawes Reparation Plan".

Tuesday, Dec. 9.

Debate was given on the question: Resolved: That government ownership of railroads and public utilities are desirable. Mr. Mercer gave some helpful suggestions to the debaters.

Friday, 19.

Lessons in Bucketball—apply to Robert E. Rettig—Liberty Hi is rapidly learning—first lesson Liberty 4 and B. G. 17.

Tuesday, 23.

Mr. Mercer gave the rules that would regulate the try-out and named the judges for the try-out. The proposed amendment to the federal constitution, question for the inter-scholastic debate, was discussed.

Wednesday, 24.

"'Twas the day before Christmas" and we're all hoping school will soon dismiss. "I can hardly wait 'til Santa Claus comes and I wonder what I'll find in my sock."

Friday, January 2, 1925.

Hear ye! Hear ye! Although it is still vacation time—come out and see B. G. versus Wauseon. Later: 'twas well worth the coming altho Wauseon beat us by a deuce. Wauseon, 15; B. G. 13.

Monday, 5.

Jingle Bells! Jingle Bells! The students (some of them) have been going down to Fort Meigs and coasting. Let's see who was it fell off and nearly got killed—? Maybe she'll tell you! May-be!

Tuesday, 6.

A short discussion of the debate question was given by all the members of the club. Mr. Mercer instructed the members on some of the principles of the art of public speaking.

Thursday, 8.

How do you hold this here horn? Say, Mr. Wyant, how do you play B flat? But say, folks, don't make fun of our new band; Columbus took a chance.

Friday, 9.

Welcome to our city, Kenton! We shall see what we shall see. The baskets seemed to have no attraction for the ball—(when we shot)—and Kenton won 35 to 13.

Tuesday, 13.

The try-out was held in Room 21, with thirteen members present to take part in the trial. Six of these speakers were chosen for the team.

Friday, 16.

Get out the ole smoked glasses and pipe the sun. It was darker'n a piece of anthracite.

Monday, 19.

"Golly, I heard the world was coming to an end. Ooh! I'm so scared. Yes, I'm leavin' for San Diego—gonna live on a hill!"

Friday, 23.

This week, we are hosts to Findlay. But she didn't treat us like guests should—she waited 'till we thought we'd won, then did us two baskets better. Findlay, 16; B. G., 12.

Saturday, 24.

Evidently a game a day keeps the victory away. At least it seemed so this day. Here we journeyed clear to Kenton thru snow drifts which seemed like mountains and had to give the game to Kenton. 39-15; tuff.

Tuesday, 27.

Debate was given on the proposed amendment to the federal constitution, all members participating. Mr. Mercer gave some helpful suggestions to all the debators.

Friday, 30.

Muns Bachman brought from way-off Bessemer his galloping steeds to race with B. G. However the latter won all four heats by over one length. Sorry, Muns.

Tuesday, February 3.

The Hi-Echo Burglar Committee has started its rampages through the halls of B. G. H. S. "50c please." They're goin' fast. Just like the Committee worked on the Hi-Echo.

Committees were picked for the selection of a memorial for the Senior Class of '25. N. Loomis, D. Dunnipace, J. Finch, G. Collins, and P. Russell. More power to 'em in their work. Eh?

Friday, 6.

We went clear to the land of the Golden Tornado to reap a harvest but the natives brought in more baskets full than we. 22-19.

Wednesday, 11.

The ol' B. G. rivals from over a few counties prove victims to B. G.'s iron determinations to trounce 'em. 'Ray for B. G. 20-16.

Monday, 16.

The Dramatic Club members are practicing hard on the plays to be given for the Library Fund Benefit. The plays are to be given in about a month.

Wednesday, 18.

The songbirds of the school are rehearsing an operetta "The Wishing Well"—by—. Sounds good!

Saturday, 21

After two weeks rest we seem about ready to bite nails. Bring 'em on! Napoleon falls first at the hands of the ol' Alma Mater. 26-13.

Friday, 27.

With practically a new team caused by the depredation of sickness and accident we travel to Fostoria to do our best toward beating 'em. However, we held Fostoria and showed her we still had that ol' fight which never dies! 21-19.

Monday, March 2.

To show how fast our staff is working, one half of the Annual went in to the Publishing Company.

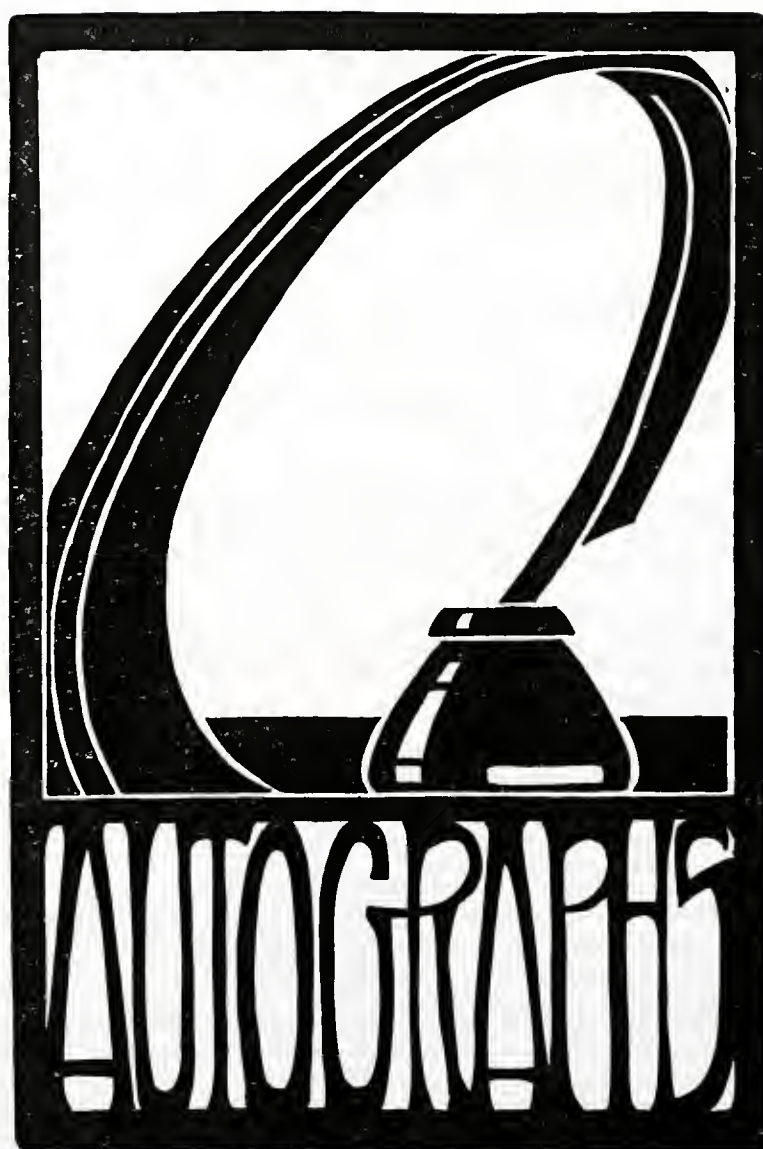

Thursday, 5.

Everybody set for the Girls' Basketball inter-class championship tournament. The first game is Soph vs. Freshmen and the second game was Seniors vs. Juniors. The Freshmen and Seniors won so now we'll show who the best men—oh, excuse,—women are!

Friday, 6.

Avast there, mates. Tickets for B. G. to Kenton. We play the team from the first real stop south of B. G. on the Dixie. Guess. No. You're wrong. Findlay won with a score of 22 to our 19.
